

Introduction to Mediation

Discover how mediation can deliver major benefits for your business

A powerful one day workshop that provides the opportunity for your business to understand how mediation works; experience the mediation process; and assess whether mediation is right for your business.

What is Mediation?

Mediation is a voluntary and confidential process that invites the parties to be innovative, collaborative and responsible for finding workable solutions to a conflict. It focusses on the future and solving problems between team members so they don't occur again.

Why use Mediation?

It is swift, effective and cost efficient.
It helps your business to manage and develop talent
It provides a proactive way to manage performance.

What's included in the workshop:

- How does mediation fit within the law?
- How does mediation work in practice?
- Independent mediation or in-house mediation - pro's and con's?
- What are the costs involved?
- When is mediation suitable and is it not suitable
- What if staff don't want to move to mediation?
- An opportunity to try mediation in conflict situations tailor made to your organisation

What people say about us

"Sarah's experience as a Barrister shows through in her delivery. Great style, very direct and no nonsense but approachable and very effective"

